How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There are always the well-known and semi-humorous methods, such as saying brunettes are quick-tempered. But there is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge a woman's neatness. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water when your shampoo is all ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv.

Ball Bearing; Long Wearing

At last—

you can have a quiet office.

Install the "Silent Smith" and do away with noise!

—Clatter and confusion are enemies of thought.

—The greater the racket the less the quantity and poorer the quality of work.

—Mechanical refinements have made the "Silent Smith" a marvel of quiet and office efficiency.

—Ask any operator now using the "Silent Smith" and she will tell you what a relief it is to her nerves—and no more to her than to her employer.

Catalog of Model 8 Silent will be sent for the asking.

Scotland for Shells.

Shell-town on the Clyde, covers 300 acres.

It sprang up in a week or two a few miles from Glasgow, and even now grass grows between its many wooden huts.

Here are filled with explosives many of the tens of thousands of shells made every week in the shops of Scotland.

There is no resident population, though the place is never idle day or night. The big shifts of workers are brought in by trains. The place is on vast mazes of shell-filling sheds and storing magazines.

Scottish women are wonderful shell-makers.

They keep excellent time, their seal is amazing, and in some places their work has been so excellent that they have been put on the biggest and most important shells.

In front of some of the machines are portraits of Nurse Cavell, and should a woman be tempted to slow down for an instant, a glance at the picture of the martyr-nurse sends her off at top speed again.—Answers.
